

SwissVetGroup / Open Neurology Job Position

Diplomate status in ACVN or ECVN preferred but, candidates with residency training considered.

We have an exciting opportunity for a specialist in neurology to join our fast-growing referral practice in Switzerland. You will be a part of the Swissvetgroup family. We have 15 established practices in Switzerland (French part on the Lemman lake area) with around 120 colleagues. The referral clinic is growing with specialists in internal medicine, dermatology, surgery, anesthesia, reproduction and interventional radiology, laparoscopy & thoracoscopy. We are committed to providing the very best patient care with a strong culture of excellence and exchange between the vets. Everything we do is about delivering the highest quality care - together.

We have all the expected equipment: in-house CT and a 1.5 tesla MRI will be installed in August 2023. The referral clinic is open 24h and the patients are always looked after with a vet and a nurse.

We would like to extend our team with neurology, there is a need in our region as patients must often be sent to the University to be diagnosed or treated.

The successful candidate will have a future bright with opportunity.

Career opportunities:

- Build a career and a home in Switzerland. Veterinary couples welcome.
- Enjoy a dedicated time off for continuing education (courses, formations, congresses)
- Collaborate with other specialists to provide the very best care together
- Be part of a fantastic team with dedicated support. Our team spirit is not only words ; we invest time and positive energy to offer a nice working experience. Come to visit us and feel it yourself!

Position requirements:

- Veterinary qualification that is registrable in Switzerland (Language : French C1 level, other most welcome)
- Completion of a recognized specialist training program in neurology
- Diplomate status in ACVN or ECVN preferred but, candidates with residency training considered
- Positive interaction with specialists in other clinical fields
- Ability to interact well with other specialists to contribute to overall patient care and treatment
- Work well in a team environment

If you are a team player with exceptional standards, dedicated to continued learning and are ready to enjoy a wonderful life in Switzerland, on the lake and in the Alps, then please write us:

antoine.adam@swissvetgroup.com,
rh@swissvetgroup.com